

ABSTRACT

A solid electrolytic capacitor (A1) includes a first and a second porous sintered bodies (1). Each sintered
5 body (1) is flat, with its thickness being small relative to the width or the length. The first and the second sintered bodies (1) are spaced from each other in the widthwise or lengthwise direction.